-Spectator Notes-

This is a secret. Dr. Robert G. Sproul, Cal prexy, is going to spend two weeks in Carmel starting May 1.

Pat and John Cunningham will be off to Paris for a six weeks painting spree on April 30. Their art school will be taken over by Dr. George Lusk, who has a PhD from Prague University. He will live in the Cunningham home until they come back.

A day at the races... As we munched our sandwich and California beer last Sunday, we noticed one local party enjoying the road races in style. The Edison Holts and Chatfield-Taylors had a station wagon crammed to the gunnels with fine food, complete bar... and a butler serving the roast turkey and martinis.

Jim Burkholder and Frank Putnam were among those Camelites who took a few minutes out of Tuesday morning to see the A-bomb blast on television. They reported that the picture of the actual explosion was fine, although they were a little worried at the fuzziness shortly before the event. Carl Rohr also reported he got a clear picture of the explosion.

Shelburn Robison, campaigning on a house-to-house basis in New Monterey, found that at least one dog in that neighborhood had decided against him.

In case you're wondering what happened to Roger Barlow's big lead in the first 100 mile race last Sunday, here's the answer. As he came around the sharp hairpin corner, the spectators clapped and cheered wildly. Roger politely stopped and acknowledged the applause before resuming.

The Carmel Rotary Club has voted to donate $105 to the Carmel Red Cross Chapter for midwest flood relief.

When the California Medical Association meets at L. A. tomorrow for its annual big (282 delegate) meeting, Dr. J. B. McCarthy of Carmel will be among those present.

Beware, Beware: From May 1 through October 31, Mussels are poisonous. "One bite can be fatal during the summer," a communique from the State Department of Health states... (Clams too, to a lesser degree, are poisonous.) It's all due to what the little bivalves feed on during the summer months.

There is a display of highly charming puppets in Kramer's window... made by Gamette. (That's all, just Gamette.) They're not for sale, but being made and saved up 'til the time their talented maker is ready to put on shows for Carmel's small fry. She makes them entirely herself, and more professionally finished, or attractive marionettes would be hard to imagine.

Helen Lightner Dean took an Easter trip to Sacramento. It was an adventurous one. When the plane on which she was flying back got to Monterey, it circled the area several times, and finally headed back toward San Francisco. When they reached S.F. Mrs. Dean says the airfield was in a state of un-nerving readiness... ambulances and fire-trucks everywhere. Seems the landing gear had jammed, and they figured better to land where there was lots of equipment. Mrs. D. must have attended Easter services, since when it came time to land, the meeting of plane and ground was perfect, not even a bump. Passengers changed planes nevertheless, and came back on one with less temperamental wheels.

Came another news release and, just like last week's, Robinson Jeffer's play is still "Media" (sic), and we still wish the festival committee would look it up.

First cards have been filtering into Carmel from the Charles McHannys who report their passage to Europe was wonderful... and Paris marvelous!

NOW "CARMEL VALLEY"

The name of the Carmel Valley post office will be officially "Carmel Valley" after June 1. This decision from Washington is the climax to the years-long battle on whether or not mail should go to Robles del Rio or Carmel Valley.

STRONG COUNCIL

The new Carmel City Council promises to be a lively one. Moreover, it looks as though the councilmen are bent on keeping their campaign statements about "maintaining the traditions of Carmel."

The most outstanding example of this feeling was in the handling of applications to remove trees. Of 16 such requests, the council granted only six, all with the proviso that new trees be planted in their stead. Francis Whitaker proved himself to be a strong ally of Donald Craig, who in the past has sometimes seemed to be the only councilman really interested in keeping the trees.

On the matter of liquor licenses, the council went on record as opposing any and all additional licenses in the city. The resolution urged the citizens to take the same stand.

The matter came up in the discussion of the new Ocean avenue liquor store planned by Reginald Foster, Pacific Grove city attorney, and Peter G. Peluses. The council heard a letter from the State Board of Equalization which said that body is powerless. The council is likewise powerless unless protest is made on certain valid grounds, such as that the store would constitute a police problem. This off-sale license is being transferred from Salinas.

The proposed bar in the La Playa Hotel is another similar situation. The council members said they felt that the granting of this license could be opposed on certain of the specific points upon which form the basis for official, legal opposition. Members noted particularly the added police problem and possible nuisance in the surrounding residential neighborhood.

No formal application for a license has been made by the La Playa so far, so no official action could be taken by the council.

Rear Admiral Ernest E. Herrmann, head of the Naval School, got a couple of fast lessons at Tuesday's council meeting-- 1) basic democracy and 2) Carmel's individuality. It came about when Herr-

FESTIVAL TALK AND RACING FOOLISHNESS

(Top): Two Camelites found they had much in common to discuss with a distinguished ANTA Festival guest. Rollo Peters (left), who played Romeo to Jane Cowl's Juliet, and Bert Heron (right), Carmel's senior citizen, known for his Forest Theatre productions of Shakespeare, are shown talking to Margery Bailey of Stanford University, who spoke at the Shakespeare Seminar last Tuesday at the Carmel Hill Theatre. -- Marge Cain photo.

(Bottom): Some Southern Californians demonstrate just one of the advantages of owning a small, low car as they convert Rancho del Monte's bar into a drive-in. mann made a plea for delaying the hearing on rent decontrol which the Carmel Board of Realtors has requested. He started out by asking the council for "time to debate this question at length." Then he said he understood that in Carmel the council's setting a date for a hearing was "tantamount to asking the people to rise up and battle this government edict (rent ceilings)."

Mayor Horace Lyon calmly explained that a problem exists which will have to be settled sooner or later. He noted that the council has been petitioned to hold a hearing on the matter and that the hearing is intended to bring facts before the council. The calling for the presentation of facts, he said, does not constitute taking a stand on the question.

Other councilmen spoke, also sharply disagreeing with Herrmann's statement.

Herrmann then said he was glad for an opportunity to amend his remarks.

The council finally set a date for a hearing on rent decontrol as May 21 at 7:45 p.m.

An Editorial

Nothing about the California Water and Telephone Company's request for a water rate increase is satisfactory. The water company is asking more than it needs--hoping to get something. The voices raised to defend the public are biased, prejudiced before study, and in some cases stupid.

The water company asks a $290,000 increase in revenue. This amount will bring over 6% profit on its investment. An even 6% profit on a utility is considered equitable. Why does the company ask more? Obviously, company officials feel they won't get the increase, so they are willing to haggle with the Public Utilities Commission over money which comes out of individual pocket-books. How much does the water company really need?

A citizens' committee has been formed to represent the consumers. This group has laid the groundwork for a legal battle in opposition to the request. Necessary and fine. But the press releases issued by the committee are misleading in places and meaningless in others. For instance the question, "why didn't the water company expand its facilities during the years 1935 to 1947 when costs were low?" Costs were low, maybe, but there was a war on for the last half of this period. Expansion was impossible under the law. The committee knows this.

There are certainly more valid reasons for opposing rate increases than blaming the company for not building when it was impossible to build.

The Monterey Herald, another voice raised in defense of the consumer, has evidently assumed that the best way to settle the water company's hash is to buy them out. If there ever was an assumption that the private enterprise system will not work, this is it. We hold no brief for monopolies--they should be and presumably are regulated by the PUC. Still, private capital is providing the service, not public monies--the socialistic theory. What's next? Should we buy the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company if they too want rate increases?

In the last analysis the decision is up to the PUC, a body expressly dedicated to seeing that utilities give proper service at a minimum cost. But here, too, there is a weakness. The PUC has established a policy which says that all taxes levied against a utility are costs and that profits are figured after all costs.

If the U.S. Government taxes were levied with an idea of sharing the expense of our defenses and foreign aid, then the PUC's policy is obviously misguided to say the least. Why should utilities be put in such a preferential position in regard to taxes?

Thus the basic problem is the fact that the PUC does not fulfill its function as a representative of the consumers. If it did, there would be no reason for expensive preparation of the consumers' case. It is time for the PUC to review its responsibilities as well as its policies.

But in the meantime, a water rate increase request must be opposed. An effective way to do this is to send donations to the Committee on Water Rates at the Bank of Carmel. It may cut a little off the new water bills.

RECREATION COMMISSIONER

Councilman John Chitwood will be the city council's representative on the City Recreation Commission. At the initial meeting of the council the members discussed filling the position, but no decision was reached. At that time Councilman Donald Craig said he felt that both he and Mrs. Geraldine Smith were possibly too close to the schools and PTA to represent the council in the best way possible.

STORE TO OPEN SOON

Mrs. Elmer Faul announced this week that the opening date for her new children's store will most likely be in the first week of May. Her shop, "Sybell's Bib 'n Tucker," will occupy the space at present used by Bishopp-Kneedler, who will in turn move to Dolores street.

NEW CANDY STORE

Marie Waller will handle Edy's candies and ice cream products in her new store on Ocean between Mission and San Carlos. Edy's is an established Oakland firm with several retail outlets throughout the state.

Because of the Middle West flood disaster, the Carmel Red Cross has been asked to raise special funds for emergency relief. Donations may be made to the local chapter, or to the Red Cross workers who are stationed in the Post Office and in Banks.

YOUTH FOLLIES

TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

The Carmel Youth Center Follies will open this evening at 8 p.m. at Sunset Auditorium. The Follies, a variety show of nearly fifty acts, have been in preparation for months, and Jack and Bonnie Giles, directors of the Youth Center, say a good show is in line.

With all kinds of acts, from singing, dancing, comedy, pantomime, instrumental and chorus to roller-skating, the show will be in two parts. Bing Crosby, a prime benefactor of the Center, has provided a script for the show and has made costumes, many of them worn by Hollywood notables, available for the show. Lloyd Weer has directed the show, and Joanne Nix has done the choreographies. John Farr has directed the fifty voice glee club, and Pat Coleman's orchestra will play for the two evenings.

Tickets, on sale now, or at the box office, for $1, promise to be a good buy.

Proceeds from the show will go toward financing Carmel Youth Center activities.

HENRI MATISSE MOVIE

A sound film entitled "The Life and Works of Henri Matisse" will be presented at 8 p.m. at Sunset Auditorium, on Monday. The film is sponsored by the Carmel Adult School and the Carmel Art Institute, with the cooperation of the San Francisco Museum of Art.

Patricia and John Cunningham, both well known local artists, will conduct a symposium on Matisse after the film.

ANTA FESTIVAL

ACTIVITIES FOR WEEKEND

Today, tomorrow and Sunday will mark the last three days of the ANTA Drama Festival at Monterey. Highlights will include an address today at 2 p.m. by Clarence Derwent, president of Equity, and a presentation tonight by the Wharf Theatre of their successful production, "The Respectful Prostitute." The latter event has been shifted from the Pacific Grove Auditorium to the State Theatre in Monterey.

Tomorrow's events include a forum, "Critics Meet the Public," at the Hill Theatre at 3:30 p.m., and a performance of "Macbeth" by the Reno Little Theatre Group at Pacific Grove Auditorium, at 8:30 p.m.

Movie actors Mel Ferrer and Dana Andrews will participate in Sunday's meeting at Sunset Auditorium at 2 p.m., and the Festival will close with the San Francisco Center for the Blind's production of "Fumed Oak" by Noel Coward, also at Sunset Auditorium, at 3:30 p.m.

Two Reviews

"OH PROMISE ME"

"Oh Promise Me," a play perpetrated by Pete Williams, was opened at the Barn Theatre last Friday. It is one of the legion dreary pieces called a "farce" for lack of a better name; intended primarily for high school graduations and an audience composed of parents and relatives. It is an impossible play, and one with which the players strove valiantly. That it was endurable at all is a credit to the cast.

Since the piece itself allowed no one a decent opportunity to display anything other than courage, suffice it to say that that cast all appeared attractive, assured, and were audible.

The program for "Oh Promise Me" announces the intent of the Barnstormers to produce "Meet Corliss Archer" as its next offering. Since that may well be lethal to the entire

Barn Theatre project, this reviewer submits and urges that the theatre reconsider. "Meet Corliss Archer" is a turkey, based on the highly dubious premise that a pithless play is an easy play... a fallacy if there ever was one. Kenn Smith, the director of the Barnstormers, should stop right now, and make an intensive search for a decent play, one which is not patently fatuous, before he kills both his players and his audiences with boredom. There are such plays, some within public domain. Given one, the Barnstormers might get away from the starting barrier, as they are not allowed to do by such material as Friday produced.

"The Lone Robber of Calaveras County," is the current offering of California's First Theatre. It is the sad tale of a poetic stage coach thief, and his life-long devotion to the orphaned victim of one of his mis-adventures. Like all of the First Theatre's dramas, this one trails clouds of the glory that was 19th century melodrama, and is good fun, well put over by a cast that takes neither itself nor its material too seriously.

With community singing of old ballads between acts and a light touch displayed throughout the play, there is laughter for all comers, and best of all, for the cast, who seem to be very happy indeed in their work.

William Shepard, who directs these plays, doubles in acting as Black Bart, and does an especially good job as the remorseful villain. Janet Call, too, deserves special mention as the rough and ready Viney Roope, the crackest female shot in Calaveras county, and Melvin Isenberger as John Bracket, the Wells Fargo detective here, is excellent.

Jeanne Rutledge, as Tilda Davidson, was a convincingly sweet heroine, and her daughter Wendy (a three year old charmer) did mighty well as a small sized Tilda.

The olio which follows the show was pretty much all Jeanne Rutledge's, in this reviewer's opinion, since she is the possessor of a lovely, well-projected voice and a fine deft manner in singing old tunes. The Gallagher and Shean act, with reference to Carmel, P.G., and Monterey (Carmel... "Individualist, Mr. Gallagher? Positively, Mr. Shean) is witty and well done.

A special nod to Carmel's Pop Smith too, for being a most convincing laundry proprietor in "Black Bart."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK PROGRAMS ANNOUNCED

With California Public Schools Week beginning on Monday, Carmel schools have announced a number of programs in addition to regular Open Houses being held at all schools throughout the week.

Carmel Woods school will present its annual Spring Festival on Wednesday at 11 a.m. The program will include dancing by the small students, and a picnic luncheon on the grounds.

Sunset School has three major events lined up, the first a Folk Dance Festival, to be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. On Wednesday there will be father-son baseball games at 3:45 p.m., and on Friday there is to be a student body meeting at 1 p.m. to which visitors are cordially invited.

Carmel High school will present a science fair at its PTA meeting on Thursday at 8 p.m., and on Saturday will have its annual PTA-Girls' League Carnival on the high school grounds. Booths for the sale of garden things, clothing, and other carnival attractions, are offered to help raise money toward scholarship funds.

SEASONAL RENT CONTROLS

As a result of the Monterey-Fort Ord area becoming the 101st Critical Defense Housing Area on April 15, 1952, a more flexible system has been established for units renting on a seasonal basis, John A. Grimsley, Area Rent Director, announced this week.

Places of registration and time will be announced in the next few days.

SAMUEL F. B. MORSE, whose one man show of water-colors will close this Sunday, is seen conferring with Harriet Weill, curator of the Pebble Beach Gallery. The Morse show has drawn wide interest during its weeks there. --Julian P. Graham photo.

STUART MITCHELL, Carmel's superintendent of schools, occupies a job that is a number of things. Though it would appear to involve, primarily, the supervision of Woods, Sunset, and Carmel High Schools it is, in practice, equally concerned with liaison jobs... acting as secretary to the school board, supervising building programs,

-- Arthur McEwen photo and acting as the major link between the Board of Trustees (who are elected officials) and the school personnel involved in Carmel's educational program.

Self-effacing, Mitchell is a quiet man, seen in Board meetings as a mine of information and answers for the Board. Much of his time is spent in determining facts and conditions at the request of the Board. If it needs information in order to act intelligently on any question, the Board requests that background material of Mitchell. He is the Board's prime researcher, called upon to find unit costs, prepare tentative budgets, appraise current or anticipated conditions, and in general, to present a balanced, though condensed, view of any question to the Board.

Born and raised in Oakland, Mitchell took both of his degrees at the U. of Cal. and then went to Westwood, where he was first a teacher and later a superintendent. He stayed there 12 years, and after two years as principal of Chico High School, came to Carmel. He was married in 1930 to Florence Williams, who was a teacher, and they have two girls both in Carmel Schools... Barbara in the 8th grade and Sue, a Sunsetter.

In the six years since Mitchell came here, Carmel's student population has grown from 759 (in 1946) to an enrollment of 980 in March of this year, a growth of slightly over 30%. The attendant building program, the supervision of which is entirely Mitchell's, once it has been launched by the Board, has kept him in Carmel year around since then, except for occasional ski trips. An ardent skier, as is his wife, Mitchell is a co-sponsor of the Carmel High Ski Club and a prime mover in its annual weekend Yosemite trip. A relaxed and informal time, the trek rates high in popularity among students at CHS.

Perhaps one of the most valuable adoptions since Mitchell's superintendency has been a co-operative work-school program, designed to allow non-college prep students to spend half a day at their chosen manual arts. With the co-operation of local businesses, the high school has been able to incorporate a series of "shop" programs that would, due to the cost of the equipment involved, be impossible within the school plant, or in any school of comparable size.

A member of Rotary, Mitchell is active in non-educational community affairs and makes a sincere attempt to gather and consider opinion from all sections of the community, since his job includes meeting the interests of those professionally involved in education and those of the community which makes that education possible. The superintendency of Carmel's schools is, perhaps, more than the name implies. In reality, it stands equally as close to the general community as it does to the schools, but by any name, it is well done in Carmel

(NOTE: This is the fourth of a series of articles on personalities within Carmel's school system. These have hoped to introduce Carmelites to some of the people they will hear more of during Public Schools Week which begins on Monday.)

President Truman serves as the subject for two new books at the library this week. Mr. President was edited by William Hillman from letters, memorandums, and public utterances of our irrepressible chief executive. The book contains many photographs of Truman and his family, several of them in color.

The Truman-MacArthur hasel is thoroughly examined by Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr. and Richard H. Rovere in The General and the President. This is an expansion of a series of articles which ran in Harper's Magazine. The book includes a number of pertinent Herblock cartoons also.

Allan Taylor, who is on the staff of the New York Times, has studied the written and spoken words of General Eisenhower and in his new book purports to tell us What Eisenhower Thinks on today's vital subjects, such as foreign policy, government spending, etc.

Those who enjoy true crime stories will have a field day reading The Scalpel of Scotland Yard, by Douglas G. Browne and E. V. Tullett. This is a biography of Sir Bernard Spilsbury who, during the time he was chief pathologist for Scotland Yard, participated in practically every major murder trial in England. Spilsbury, who was called "the incomparable witness," provided the clinching evidence in many trials.

Organizations

SUPPER AND REVIEW AT BIG SUR GRANGE

The Big Sur Grange is sponsoring a pot-luck supper and revue tomorrow night at the Grange Hall, just south of Ripplewood.

The supper will begin at 6 p.m. and the review at 8:30 p.m. Admission will be 75¢ for adults and 40¢ for children. Those attending are requested to bring food sufficient for their party.

Gene Perime is directing musical numbers in the revue and Bob Skiles is directing the skits. Many talented Big Sur residents are participating.

CHIROPRACTIC MEETING

Dr. D. M. Petersen of Carmel attended the monthly meeting of the California Chiropractic Association at Salinas on April 17. Plans were made for "Good Posture Week" which will run from May 1 through 7.

MUSIC TEACHERS' RECITAL

The cooperation of the members of the Monterey County

Music Teachers Association was emphasized at the spring recital Sunday afternoon, April 20, at the Pacific Grove Women's Club, when eleven teachers presented students of all ages in a recital of piano and voice.

This organization, about one and a half years old, has grown in a short time both in membership and glowing results. The stimulation from the exchange of ideas and ideals from the many teachers shows a growth in fellowship, from which both students and teachers derive a benefit.

Teachers presenting pupils were Mrs. Kathryn Lansdowne, Edward C. Hopkins, Mrs. Ralph Weston, Mrs. S. Arkhangelsky, Mrs. Alice DeRiemer, Mrs. Dorothy Goudge, Robert Forbes, Miss Dorothy Heer, Mrs. M. C. Holman, Mr. Wade Parks, Mrs. F. J. Lebeck.

Mrs. Alice de Riemer was chairman of the committee for the recital. The grades of music represented started at the very beginning development and ran through to some very advanced training.

The pupils played with an assurance, efficient in tone and technique, and showed the effect of careful training by qualified teachers.

The goal of these teachers is to raise cultural standards through projection of the best music has to offer.

ALCOHOLISM AUTHORITY TO COME HERE

The Monterey Peninsula Committee on Alcoholism announces this week that Mrs. Marty Mann of New York, lay authority on alcoholism, now on a lecture tour of the West, will be on the Monterey Peninsula, May 15 through 19.

A public meeting will be sponsored by the Committee on May 15 at 8 p.m. in Sunset School Auditorium, Carmel. Mrs. Mann will speak on alcoholism: what it is and what to do about it.

According to the Alcoholic Information Center, she will be available for other speaking engagements. Interested organizations should telephone Monterey 2-3155 between the hours of noon and 3 p.m.

STAMP CLUB MEETING

The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club heard a talk by Col. Harry Henry at its meeting last Monday evening. Col. Henry, who resides in Pacific Grove, was stationed on the Mexican border for some time, and he talked on stamps of Mexico as well as showing his six stamp albums and several charts.

Mr. Laurence S. Stallings, vice president, presided at the meeting, and door prizes were won by Mrs. Dolores Martin, Col. Henry, and Allan Glennon.

The Stamp Club's next meeting will be for trading and selling and will be held on Monday, May 5, in the lounge at Carmel High School. All philatelists are invited to attend.

SAN JUAN ART SHOW

The San Juan Bautista Arts & Crafts show will be held May 3 through May 11 at the ballroom of the Zanetta House, a State Monument building, across the Plaza from the Old Mission.

Entrants are urged to make requests early for their blanks by writing the local Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 64, or phoning San Juan Bautista 120 or 143R. It is an open show, to any age, or place, residence, or art medium. There is no charge to exhibitors or to the public.

CAMERA OUTING PLANNED

Photographers of the Northern and Central parts of California will convene at Santa Cruz for a day's outing of picture-taking, on Sunday, May 4.

The outing is sponsored jointly by the Northern California Council of Camera Clubs and the Monterey Bay Council of Camera Clubs, and is open to all photographers and their families, whether members of camera clubs in these areas or not.

Tickets for participation in the event are not required, and no charges are made for photographing the attractive models in the scenic settings especially selected for the best photographic angles.

The photographers plan to meet at the Council Chambers at the City Hall in Santa Cruz at 10 a.m., May 4, bringing a picnic lunch.

PHILOLOGY TALK

Monday afternoon the ladies of the Carmel Woman's Club were entertained by Mr. Max Tadlock from Monterey Peninsula College who talked on philology--the study of words. He explained how good taste in words differs in different sections of our country and foreign countries, illustrating how environment plays an important part in our English language. He said we no longer call a spade a spade--but something else; however the content remains the same. Our vocabulary is constantly changing to keep ahead of good taste and he urged tolerance, linguistically.

Tea for the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Eleanor J. Poyer, Mrs. Keith Evans, and Mrs. John D. Gates. Mrs. Marion L. Chamberlain and Mrs. C. C. McLane poured.

Monday, April 28, the garden section of the club has a program scheduled through the courtesy of the California Spray Chemical Corporation of Richmond, Calif. A double feature showing will include "Famous Gardens of Europe" and a new film entitled "O-kiki-o Hawaii" (Orchids of Hawaii). "Famous Gardens of Europe" is a 16 millimeter movie, filmed in natural color with background music and narration. Foreign gardens shown include Hyde Park, London; Kew Gardens, outside of London, Windsor Castle, and other famous gardens in France and Switzerland, and the Pope's private garden in Rome. Also scenes from the flower show in Southport, England, the world's largest.

"O-kiki-o Hawaii" is a similar film in full color illustrating that orchids are not fragile and are easy to grow. It shows magnificent close-ups of all popular types of orchids, as well as private estates and famed nurseries, showing that orchid culture is no longer a hobby of the rich only.

May 26, a garden luncheon will be given by club members and prizes for the best floral arrangements will be given. Mrs. E. T. Patee, in charge, has on her committee Mrs. F. L. Knudsen, Mrs. V. R. Woodruff, and Mrs. Wm. Ecklund.

NAVY WOMEN'S MEETING

The April meeting of the Naval Postgraduate School Women's Club was held last week with Mrs. Virginia Nielson of the NB Flower Shop of Carmel as guest speaker. Mrs. Nielson demonstrated interesting ways to arrange flowers from the simplest arrangement for table decoration to corsages, whether from our own gardens or florist grown. She is widely known for her articles for Better Homes and Gardens and House Beautiful.

Give the little lady a helping hand

THIS ad is addressed to husbands — husbands who've yearned for the thrill of sitting behind a broad hood packed with horsepower—and the pride of rolling down the street in a car that tells the world, "Here's a man who knows the finest thing on wheels."

But husbands have wives. And wives have been known to say, "No big cars for me. They're too hard to handle."

Well, we have an answer for that one. It's a ROADMASTER with Buick's new Power Steering.† And Power Steering takes over any time the steering gets tough—works like a helping hand—reduces the effort of turning the wheel of a car at a standstill to about the same effort it takes to pick up a mink coat.

BUT out on the open highway—with a clear straight stretch before you—your hands still have command of the wheel—you can feel that sure, firm, easy and eager responsiveness that's a part of the fun of driving.

The rest of the fun is in something else that's new this year—the highest horsepower that a Buick Fireball Engine has ever delivered — and an Airpower carburetor that lets loose an extra reserve of power when needed, and still adds extra miles to your cruising range on each tankful of gas.

So we suggest a family demonstration. You'll both like the hushed and restful silence of this superbly able traveler. You'll like the harmonious beauty of its interior, and the deep and luxurious softness of its seats.

You'll like the velvet-gloved grip of its Wide-Band brakes, and the most capacious trunk in Buick history.

You'll like the smooth surge of Dynaflo Drive, and you'll like—but why waste time talking, when you could be finding out more than we can ever tell you? How about making a date to do that right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.

CARMEL GIRL WINS BADMINTON TOURNEY

Paula Roloff of Carmel is the new Northern California Junior Girls' Badminton champion. She defeated top-seeded Pat Gowen, 8-11, 12-9, 11-2 at Berkeley this week.

Miss Roloff also took the doubles title, teamed with Miss Gowen, defeating Carmen Duran and Dolores Faria, 15-8, 15-6.

Paula, who attends Carmel High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roloff, Hatton Road, Carmel.

ARCHERS MEET

The Monterey Peninsula Archery Club will test its mettle against the Santa Cruz club in a tournament this Sunday at the Pebble Beach course. The public is invited to attend the meet, which will start at 1 p.m. The course is adjacent to the Carmel Hill gate.

FISH DERBY OPENS MAY 3

Numerous inquiries concerning the definition of certain types of the ten prize winning fish in Monterey's first annual Salmon and Deep Sea Fishing Derby, May 3 to June 29, at Monterey, have prompted the Monterey Peninsula Sportsmen's Conservation Club, sponsors of the event, to list some of the fish more specifically.

The fish that have excited questions from sports anglers are red rock cod, black cod, octopus, eel, and halibut. Red rock cod includes all types of red fish; black cod includes only the fish known as candle fish and sable fish and black cod; octopus includes all species of octopus species of octopus; eel includes wolf eel, and all other types of eel; halibut includes all species of halibut except skate.

Fish will be judged and prizes will be awarded on the basis of weight only. The heaviest King-Chinook Salmon will win the grand prize, an Austin A-40, four door sedan. Weekly first prizes will be awarded each of the ten types of fish, and grand first, second, and third prizes for each class will be given at the close of the derby. The prize winning fish are King-Chinook Salmon, octopus, eel, halibut, red rock cod, black cod, cabazone, yellow-tail, blue shark, and ling

BILL POLLACK driving Thomas Carsten's Allard repeated his last year's win in the Pebble Beach race for "big" cars last Sunday. Sports anglers are urged to make their reservations for sports boats early. There is plenty of tackle available for those who forget to bring their own. An entry fee of $2 is good for the entire event.

SUMMONS IN ACTION TO QUIET TITLE TO THE LANDS
HEREINAFTER DESCRIBED

Action brought in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Monterey, and the complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said County of Monterey, CAMPBELL & McHARRY, attorneys for plaintiff.

PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA SEND GREETING TO: HENRY BEAVER, and all other persons unknown, claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in the complaint adverse to plaintiff's owner- ship, or any cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto, Defendants.

YOU ARE HEREBY DIRECTED to appear and answer the complaint in an action entitled as above brought against you in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Monterey, within ten (10) days after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county, or within thirty (30) days if served elsewhere.

AND YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that unless you appear and answer as above required the said plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

The object of said action is to quiet title to the plaintiff in the premises and real estate in the complaint in said action and hereinafter described, and to determine all and every claim, estate, right, title, lien, or interest therein of the said defendants, and each of them, if any they have; that it be declared and adjudged by said decree that none of said defendants has any right, title, estate, lien, or interest whatsoever in or to said lands or in or to any part thereof, and that the title of the plaintiff is good and valid; and the said defendants, and each of them be forever enjoined and debarred from asserting any claim whatever in or to said lands and premises, adverse to the plaintiff, and for such other and further relief as to said court may seem meet and agreeable to equity, and for plaintiff's costs herein.

The Amateur Gardener

GARDENING FOR HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

By CHARLES W. DELANEY

Now that we have our garden planted for summer blooming, we must plan ahead, so that we may have flowers in fall and early winter. Most summer flowering plants bloom early so that they can form seed before killing frosts appear; this is nature's law of reproduction. So we must circumvent this law by growing plants that enjoy short days and cool nights. We must leave or reserve some space for that kind of plant. We frequently set out too many plants and fail to think of the fall season, when most gardens begin to look worn out and tired. Most annual plants complete their life cycle in seven to nine months at the most, and so if we have our plans developed we can have flowers late into winter.

FALL FLOWERS

The chrysanthemum heads the list for fall gardening. They are available in a great variety of colors, heights, size of flowers, and shapes. Some are ideal for small gardens and others for the cutting garden. They are especially long lasting as cut flowers, if a little Clorox is added to the water. The chrysanthemum is easy to grow and may be transplanted even when in bloom. They may be grown in pots, tubs, trained to cascade over walls, and grow well out in the garden. The tall varieties require stakes for support, because the flower heads are so large. The large pom pom variety must be grown in a greenhouse since wind and rain spoil the flower; but the other kinds do well in the garden.

Cultural requirements: a rich soil, frequent watering, and an occasional spray of Orthotix and Lindane. The plants should be so spaced that free circulation of air is available about the base of the plants. Keep the lower leaves as dry as possible—that means irrigation instead of using a garden spray.

FALL-BLOOMING PERENNIALS

The perennial aster is very handy and if cut back in July will form a compact plant. Japanese anemone, coreopsis, helenium, purple coneflower are used in fall groupings. Dahlia roots, if stored in sand or peat moss until June, will give very fine results; but do not allow the tubers to dry out too much.

FALL ANNUALS

The following, if planted in seed flats in May, will give additional color: marigold, (try glitters), the old fashioned wallflower, stocks, candytuft, cockscomb, statice, and petunias. If your petunias have bloomed profusely all summer, try cutting back the entire plant to six or eight inches from the ground, then mulch with peat moss and fertilizer and water freely. Sometimes they come back and give another mass of flowers.

Attractive and interesting fall gardens are rare. The gardener becomes tired, the flowers exhausted and old beyond their time. If you are an avid gardener you can have a wonderful effect by planning ahead.

ARMED FORCES DAY

The Monterey Peninsula is planning a gala round of events to add to the already elaborate Armed Forces Day plans at Fort Ord, the Naval Postgraduate School, and other military installations in the area. "Unity-Strength-Freedom" will be the motif for the May 17 observance by all Armed Forces installations in the area.

Rear Admiral Ernest E. Hermann, Superintendent of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School and Project Officer for the Monterey Bay Area, and Major General Robert B. McClure, 6th Infantry Division Commander here, have established committees that are planning interesting open houses in their respective commands. The Naval Auxiliary Air Station and the Coast Guard also will share in the open house events. In addition, a Monterey Peninsula Peninsula Special Events Committee is joining in the planning to make May 17 a day to be long remembered in this area.

At the Naval School the public will get a glimpse of the new laboratories for the first time. Simplified demonstrations will be given of scientific phenomena including the "snooperscope," the latest in Geiger counters, television, radio photograph equipment, and a host of other equipment and experiments used in the training of officers of the Armed Forces.

Fort Ord will have virtually a full day of events, starting in the morning with a dedication and corner-stone laying ceremonies in observance of Fort Ord becoming a permanent Army installation.

William C. Foster, Deputy Secretary of Defense, will come here from Washington to officiate at the ceremonies.

Probably one of the most dramatic Armed Forces Day displays will be staged here in the afternoon when the public will be invited to observe the firing of each type weapon used by the Infantry. The demonstration will be climaxed by a "mad minute" when all the weapons are fired at one time, virtually pulverizing the impact area.

In addition, the public will be invited to eat an Army meal, inspect equipment and supplies, observe Army life, and attend an impressive, colorful division review in which thousands of troops will take part. A myriad other events are also planned.

Look Out!

Please pardon the pun. But people who ride Southern Pacific streamliners should look out, too. The "name" trains listed below place on display the grandest array of mountain, valley, ocean, forest and desert scenery you'll ever see, viewed through extra large picture windows.

Chair Cars on Southern Pacific's modern streamliners have been built with your comfort the first consideration. Dust-free, draft-free air-conditioning. No-glare fluorescent lighting. Soft-as-a-cloud foam-rubber seats. Lots of leg room and move-around room. Extra large windows. Feather-touch doors. Spacious washrooms. That's why Chair Cars on S.P. streamliners are the most luxurious form of all low-cost transportation.
